12:50 pm FM on GST: Finance Minister Arun Jaitley today reiterated that the Centre is still aiming to roll out the Goods and Services Tax (GST) regime from April 1 if all pending issues are sorted out.

GST, which is to subsume most of central and state taxes like excise, service tax and VAT, needs to roll out by latest September 16, 2017, he said.

This because, under the Constitutional Amendment passed by Parliament for the GST implementation, some of the existing levies would expire after September 16.

Jaitley said the government was aiming to implement the new sales tax from April this year.

12:40 pm Interview: On the recent deal with Shiva Cement, Anil Kumar Pillai, Director and CEO of JSW Cement, said that along with acquiring 35.6 percent of promoters' stake JSW will also take over the Rs 65 crore debt of the company.

In an interview with CNBC-TV18 he said that JSW will use a part of Shiva Cement's clinker for its Salboni unit and this acquisition will help in leveraging grinding operations in the eastern region.

Listing the company's future outlook, Pillai said that they will look to list JSW Cement in the next 2 years and plans to reach 30 metric tonne capacity by 2020.

12:20 pm FII View: Earnings growth is expected to remain muted in 2017, says Gautam Chhaochharia, Head of India Research at UBS Securities. A big reason for this, would be the government's move to demonetise high denominations, whose immediate impact is the cash crunch.

But he says the main impact would be felt in March as demand destruction continues. He feels the impact will last till the fourth quarter of FY17. The near-term worry due to demonetisation can still be felt, he adds.

He keeps a target of 8,800 points for Nifty by the end of 2017. The risk reward, he says, is not yet attractive in the near-term.

He expects two rate cuts by the Reserve Bank of India in 2017.
