

JSW Cement increases production capacity of Bellary plant

Going in for a modern roller press technology, JSW Cement is likely to increase production capacity of its Bellary plant. Its current production capacity from 1.0 mtpa will go up to 3.4 mlpo shortly. This will enable JSW Cement to increase its distribution network in southern India. The new production facility was inaugurated in January 2017 at Bellary. The additional facility is highly energy-efficient and will churn out superior quality PSC cement and GGBS.
