JSW Group eyeing troubled steel makers

JSW Group is looking for acquisition opportunities among troubled steel companies, a top executive at the group said on Wednesday. The JSW group will submit a revised proposal to acquire Monnet Ispat, said Parth Jindal, son of group chairman Sajjan Jindal. The group may also consider Bhushan Steel and Essar Steel if offered at the "right price", he said. "We're very keen on Monnet Ispat and Bhushan Steel," he said. "At the right price, Essar Steel is also attractive... but we cannot buy both."
